Council and Aldermen Pass Important Bills in Special Session.

Vote on Issuing $400,000
Street Bonds Ordered.

JEFFERSON ST. IMPROVEMENT

Final passage to an ordinance increasing the city license of retail liquor dealers from $150 to $500 and measure providing for the improving of Jefferson street with bituminous material and ordering the question of issuing $400,000 worth of municipal bonds for street improvement purposes, constituted the work of what was probably one of the most important meetings of the city legislative boards that were held last night and the members were in session until after midnight considering the business before them.

The mayor's call for the meeting was to have action taken on four ordinances. The one of the most important was the ordinance raising the saloon license from $150 per year to $500. Mayor Smith said that it was the first time the city had had a chance to have the saloon men pay to the city what they ought to, and by raising the saloon license the city can get out of debt and stay out of debt. In 1906 the city went in debt $10,000 and since then has gone further in debt to the extent of $36,942. The city can be kept in a healthy, sanitary condition, so as it will be inviting for outside business for a good location for a business or manufacturing plant. Mayor Smith stated that licenses on all kinds of business would be raised beginning next year. The saloon men are the first to have their licenses raised because they pay licenses semi-annually and other business men pay annually. The mayor stated that it was not the intention to persecute any one by wanting the saloon licenses raised, but that it was a family affair and was for the benefit of the city and the saloon people themselves.

Liquor Men Oppose.

Judge R. T. Lightfoot gave a strong talk in behalf of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association. He said that it was unjust to raise a revenue from the whisky element to get the city out of debt, when the debt was brought upon the city by poor management. His plea was that hard times had hit the liquor men just the same as manufacturing plants and that if the councilmen were put in the saloon men's place they could see that it was unjust to raise the

TAFT'S NOMINATION PLEASES FILIPINOS

Manila, June 19.—Secretary Taft's nomination gives great satisfaction here. Those favoring independence believe they will have a strong friend in case Taft is elected president.

WEATHER.

Fair and continued warm tonight and Saturday. Highest temperature yesterday, 92; lowest today, 77.

Sketch of William Howard Taft.

In William Howard Taft the Republican National Convention nominated for the presidency a man exceptionally equipped, not only by nature and training, but experience and achievement, to perform the delicate and arduous duties of the great office in the gift of any people. For nearly thirty years he has given himself with single-minded devotion to the public service. He has displayed throughout a broad grasp of affairs, a literally dauntless courage, an unshakable integrity, a quick and all embracing sympathy, a deep and abiding sense of justice, a marvelous insight in to human nature, a sure and unwavering judgment, executive ability of the highest order, and a limitless capacity for hard work. In all the years of its history the Republican party has never selected as its leader in a national campaign a man so tried beforehand, and so amply proved equal to the task.

A Family of Jurists.

Mr. Taft comes of a family distinguished in the law and the public service. The first American Taft came of the English yeomanry, transplanted across the Atlantic by the great upheaval for conscience's sake which peopled New England with its sturdy stock. In this country they turned to the study and practice of the law.

The boy grew up in an atmosphere of earnest regard for public duty too little known in these days of the colossal and engrossing material development of the country. His father earned distinction in the service of the city and state and nation, going from the Superior bench, to which he had been elected unopposed, to the place in Grant's cabinet now held by the son, then, as Attorney General, to the Department of Justice, and finally into the diplomatic service, as minister first to Austria and then to Russia.

At College. Of course he went to Yale. His father had been the first alumnus elect to the corporation, and when young Taft had completed his preparatory course at Andover he went to New Haven for his college training.

He went back to Cincinnati and began the study of law in his father's office, at the same time doing court reporting for the newspaper owned

Taft Demonstration When Nomination Was Made Equalled Roosevelt Outburst--Parade of States

Chicago, June 19.—For president of the United States, William H. Taft, of Ohio.

Taft on the first ballot. Taft by 502 votes! Taft by unanimous choice of the convention.

Such is the record of the culminating day of the Republican national convention of 1908, effected amid scenes of tumultuous enthusiasm and after a nerve-racking, continuous session lasting nearly eight hours. With the president named and the platform enunciated, there remains only the nomination of a vice president to complete the work. Tonight the whole city is given over to wild exultation in honor of the new candidate whose name goes echoing through the country.

The picture within the walls of the vast amphitheater when the presidential candidate was named was one truly grand in its magnitude. In front, to the right and left, below and above, a billowing sea of humanity, restless after hours of waiting and stirred from one emotion to another, was in a fever of expectancy for the culminating vote. Favorite sons of other states had been named, save Knox and LaFollette, and now the roll call of Ohio came.

As the Buckeye state was reached, the tall, gaunt form of Theodore E. Burton, with student-like face, and severe black clerical garb, advanced to the platform to nominate Ohio's candidate. He spoke fervently, with the ringing voice of an evangelist, which went ringing through the great building. The close of his speech of nomination was the signal for the loosening of the long pent up feeling of the Taft legions. Instantly the Ohio delegates were on their feet, other Taft states following, while the convention hosts, in the gallery

METEORITE FOUND ON LONE OAK FARM

Farmers in the Lone Oak neighborhood are wondering over a strange stone found on the farm of Claude Overstreet, just after a thunder and lightning storm. Where the stone was found the grass was scorched away for a radius of several feet and the rock itself nearly buried in the earth. Jasper Grim dug the rock out and found it contained a heavy deposit of minerals and smelled strongly of sulphur. He had no knowledge of the stone before the storm and connecting the scorched ground with the lava-like stone, he thinks it must be a meteorite, or fragment that fell to the earth from some other planetary body.

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Hospital Board and Meat and Milk Inspector to be Selected.

Mayor Will Call Board Together First of Week.

BOARD OF WORKS IN SESSION

Mayor James P. Smith will call a special joint meeting of the council and aldermen next Monday or Tuesday evening to elect two members of the Riverside hospital board, and the city milk and meat inspector. The ordinance providing for the hospital board will be passed by the aldermen this afternoon at an adjourned meeting. Dr. J. T. Reddick and Dr. W. C. Eubanks are the present members of the board, representing the medical profession. They probably will be re-elected.

Dr. Ed Farley, city milk and meat inspector, will be a candidate for re-election, as will every other veterinarian in the city. In this as well as in the election for the hospital board, the term will be for 18 months, or until December, 1909. After that the regular two year term will be observed.

The board of public works is meeting this afternoon to dispose of the contract for improving Water street, which Contractor T. J. Sale refuses to sign. The board may simply award the contract to the bidder who had the next lowest bid for the work, as was done in the case of the Riverside hospital improvements.

ASS'N TOBACCO SALES

Total sales for this week by the Dark Tobacco Growers' association through A. N. Voss at the Paducah saucroom, were 519 hogsheds. Itemized, the total shows that Paducah sold 299 hogsheds; Martin, Tenn., 12 hogsheds; Dresden, Tenn., 37 hogsheds; Kevil, 25; Fulton, 73; La Center, 51; Clinton, 1. The prices paid were 7 to 10 cents for lugs and 10 to 13 cents for leaf tobacco. For the year so far the total sales through the Paducah office have been 3,591 hogsheds. Receipts for the year have been 9,369 hogsheds. No sales were made this morning.

FINE HORSE STABBED

"George Starr," the fine little pacer of Dr. Ed Farley, is in a bad condition as the result of a stab in the right hip by some unknown person. The horse was in the stable last night and Dr. Farley was awakened by a noise from the stable. He went out and found a stab about three inches deep and a foot long in the horse's hip. The cut was made with a keen instrument, and with immediate attention it is believed that the fast little horse will not be bothered in speed.

"George Starr" has a record of 2:13 1/4 and is one of the fastest horses around Paducah. He has not been seen on the track this year, but last year he made all horses look up. Dr. Farley is at a loss to account for the stabbing.

CONGRESSMAN JAMES S. SHERMAN, OF NEW YORK, IS UNANIMOUSLY NOMINATED FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

TAFTS NOMINATION MEETS APPROVAL IN PADUCAH

William H. Taft for standard bearer of the Republican party meets with approval among Republicans in Paducah, and though the Democrats are not forward in expressing themselves, it is nevertheless evident that they realize the party selected a formidable candidate.

Paducah Republicans, even those who had leanings toward other candidates, recognize the fact that no "steam rolling" process could have been successful, though engineered by Roosevelt himself, if it had not had the overwhelming sentiment of the people behind it. Roosevelt, as one Republican said, was bold in his course because he knew he had the popular will behind him.

"Taft certainly handled himself with judgment," said a henchman of the allies, "all through the trying time before the convention. It would have been easy for a shallow man to have made a big blunder in a candidacy based on another man's popularity, but his course proves to me that he really has the ability that Roosevelt credits him with."

Long distance calls from surrounding towns to The Sun indicated the interest in the nomination, and general satisfaction was expressed over the choice. Taft will roll up a larger vote in Paducah than any other man could. The platform itself and the fact that he represents Roosevelt's way of doing things, will bring out the full party vote, and, from indications, many Democratic votes who are not satisfied with the peerless one's candidacy.

Interest in the outcome of the convention was intense in the city yesterday and telephones at The Sun office were kept ringing all day by anxious inquirers, the interest now confined to Republicans but Democrats and members of other political parties as well.

The first news of the nomination was flashed to The Sun in a bulletin from the United Press at 5:30 o'clock and an extra edition on the streets ten minutes later gave the public the news of the nomination, though this fact was clearly forecasted by reports in the regular edition.

Deputy Jailer T. L. Roeder will be out next week after a protracted sickness from an accidental pistol shot.

CAUTION EMBODIED IN CALL FOR MEETING OF FARMERS UNION BY ORGANIZER

Wants None But Loyal Members of Body to Participate in State Organization.

The official call for the meeting of delegates representing subordinate councils of the Farmers' Union to meet in Paducah to effect a state organization has been made by R. L. Barnett, the state organizer, who has notified the officers of the various unions to meet at once and select delegates.

That the meeting will be important and fears are entertained that opposition organizations may attempt to control the proceedings to the detriment of the Farmers' Union, is evidenced in Mr. Barnett's letter to the subordinate unions in which he says:

"The time has come for a close watch to be kept over our organization in Kentucky, and you should elect no member who is not in good standing and in harmony with our organization."

RIVER 35 FEET AT ST. LOUIS-- STILL RISING

St. Louis, June 19.—The flood situation is becoming menacing with the river nearly 35 feet and still rising. Numerous new breaks in levees are reported flooding thousands of acres of protected land. Only the Chicago & Alton embankment is protecting the entire Missouri bank of

CHOICE OF TAFT MANAGERS WINS ON FIRST BALLOT

Convention Completes Work and Adjourns Sine Die at 11:47 Amid Tremendous Enthusiasm.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 19.—Congressman James S. Sherman, of the Twenty-seventh New York district, was unanimously elected for vice president at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The Sherman would be nominated was apparent at the opening of the convention this morning and names of but few "favorite sons" were placed before the convention. When New York voted solidly for Sherman his nomination was assured and Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, moved that the nomination be made unanimous.

The official vote stood: Sherman, 816; Murphy, 77; Guild, 75; Sheldon, 10; Fairbanks, 1. Murphy's vote—Alabama, 2; Colorado, 1; Connecticut, 14; Illinois, 3; Indiana, 4; Iowa, 4; Kansas, 1; Louisiana, 2; Mississippi, Neb. Jersey, 21; Ohio, 10; Pennsylvania, 8; South Carolina, 1; Wisconsin, 2. Guild's votes—Alabama, 1; Iowa, 7; Louisiana, 1; Maine, 3; Massachusetts, 32; Michigan, 8; Nebraska, 4; Ohio, 10; Wisconsin, 9. The vote in West Virginia and Wisconsin gave ten votes to Governor Sheldon of Nebraska.

Chicago, June 19.—The convention was again slow in assembling and it was nearly 10:30 o'clock when Senator Lodge called the body to order. The heat was ferocious and the crowd was smaller since only a candidate for the vice presidency was to be nominated. New Yorkers entered the hall claiming Sherman's victory.

Senator Lodge opened proceedings by formally announcing Taft's nomination. Three New York marching clubs immediately entered the hall headed by a band with Sherman banners. A motion was adopted timing nominating speeches to ten minutes and the roll call for nominations was ordered. Delaware pledged to New York and Timothy Woodruff, state chairman, nominated Sherman.

der. Upon the cautious management of the business of our order depends its life and usefulness to our people and our country.

"Our growth within the past few months has been wonderful in Kentucky, and our work on business lines has been entirely gratifying. Our power is now recognized by the business men of the country—even in Kentucky."

Mr. Barnett extends an invitation on behalf of the Commercial club, the Retail Merchants' association, the Central Labor Union and the mayor and citizens generally to the farmers to come to Paducah. He suggests that the unions arrange to have representative farmers attend and a banner be provided for each delegation with the name of the union represented. A parade will be given headed by Deal's Union band.

STEEL TRUST HAD MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Shelby, O., June 19.—Fire caused a million dollar loss to the plant of the Shelby Steel Tube Works, a branch of the steel trust. Spontaneous combustion is responsible for the fire. Four acres of buildings were burned.

Gompers' View of Platform. Chicago, June 19.—President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, declares the Republican platform labor plank is not anti-injunction but a pro-injunction plank, that the only difference is that the people enjoined shall have notice.

Speaker Cannon seconded the nomination and was given a great ovation. Governor Willson, of Kentucky, also seconded the nomination of Sherman.

Senator Lodge nominated Governor Guild, of Massachusetts, and F. A. Denison, a negro, presided while Senator Lodge was talking. Thomas McCarter nominated former Governor Murphy, of New Jersey.

Chicago, June 19.—Up until the opening of the convention at 10 o'clock this morning the greatest uncertainty regarding the vice-presidency prevailed. Leaders caucused throughout the night, but were unable to settle the question. Hitchcock had been trying to force Doliver's nomination, but met with slight success. It was reported his failure caused Hitchcock to become angry and he had stormy interviews with several delegates.

New Yorkers Booming Sherman. New Yorkers were booming Sherman, but it is reported Roosevelt opposed his nomination. Governor Hanley's speech nominating Fairbanks is reported to have offended President Roosevelt and Governor Hanley may put Fairbanks out of the race for vice-president.

The national committee meets after the convention adjourns and it is expected a sub-committee will be named to confer with Taft to select a national chairman. Hitchcock is regarded as the likeliest candidate.

Roosevelt Congratulates Sherman.

Washington, June 19.—President Roosevelt telegraphed Sherman: "Accept hearty congratulations and good wishes for success of ticket of Taft, Sherman." Taft also telegraphed congratulations.

Taft Resigns.

Washington, June 19.—Taft announced his resignation as war secretary effective June 30. President Roosevelt announced that Luk Wright, of Tennessee, will succeed Taft.

Washington, June 19.—Taft wired to Sherman to meet him tomorrow in Cincinnati to discuss the selection of a national chairman and campaign plans.

Leaders Pleased.

Chicago, June 19.—Senator Fryan of Oklahoma, said as goes New York so goes the nation and that Oklahoma intended to go with New York.

Governor Willson, of Kentucky, said "Taft and Sherman sounds good to us. The name has a good republican sound. With these standard bearers we are ready to meet all opposition and carry everything before us in November."

Campaign Chairman.

Chicago, June 19.—Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, was chosen temporary chairman of the new national committee until the candidates decide on a permanent chairman. Elver Dover, of Ohio, was re-elected secretary.

Wheat dealers say that the price of that commodity will open this year at 80 cents per bushel. Active preparations for handling the crop is being made by the dealers and, barring the approach of rainy weather, it will not be a great while until the crop will be put on the market.

President Reports From U. P.

Washington, June 19.—President Roosevelt received all convention news from the United Press. When reports from other sources were found cumbersome and inaccurate they were abandoned for the United Press. An operator was installed on a loop in the white house and furnished all reports to which the president resorted.

ROOSEVELT ORDERS 800 MEN TO PANAMA.

Move for a Fair Vote—Administration Determined to Prevent Fraud and Disorder.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Eight hundred additional officers and enlisted men of the marine corps are to be sent to the isthmus of Panama in anticipation of the coming election there. They will be sent by the direction of the president and will leave the United States on the battleships New Hampshire and Idaho next Saturday and Sunday.

About 300 officers and men of the marine corps are now on their way to the isthmus, which, with those now there and those to be sent on the New Hampshire and Idaho, will total about 1,250 officers and men. Administration officers say the additional force is being sent for use in case of necessity, but they do not think there will be the slightest need for them.

Troops Due June 26.

According to the present program the additional marines will reach the isthmus June 26, two days before the municipal elections, scheduled for June 28. They will be stationed at various places, a certain number being placed at each polling precinct necessary to prevent fraud. The two battleships, the Idaho and the New Hampshire, will return to the United States promptly on landing their men. The latter is scheduled to visit Quebec during tercentenary week in July. The administration's purpose is to prevent frauds at the election and quell any disturbance that might result from dissatisfaction over the result of the ballots.

Noel Gaines Suit Settled.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., June 19.—The statement in the Evening Post concerning the Gaines libel against the Kentucky State Journal, W. P. Walton and Percy Haly was incorrect. Gaines did not dismiss the suit. The following order was entered in the case:

Anderson circuit court, Noel Gaines vs. Ky. Journal Pub. Co., W. P. Walton and Percy Haly, Judgment. By agreement of the parties hereto, as well as their counsel, it is ordered and adjudged that the plaintiff, Noel Gaines, do recover of the defendant, Kentucky Journal Publishing company, W. P. Walton and Percy Haly, jointly, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars and the costs herein expended, for which execution may issue. Then came John W. Day and George A. Williams, attorneys for plaintiff, and acknowledged receipt for the principal sum of two hundred and fifty dollars and enters satisfaction to that extent.

Messrs. Walton and Haly paid an agreed judgment of $250 and costs. Both sides said they were satisfied. Mr. Gaines said he only wanted vindication.

RAILROAD NOTES

With the exception of the car repairing department only enough men are working at the Illinois Central shops today to maintain running repairs. The men that are used on the off days are changed each week so that an undue hardship may not be worked on them. Taking advantage of the two days off, workmen are whitewashing the ceiling of the machine shops. The whitewash is blown on the ceiling by air, and a large area is covered in a remarkably short time.

Work is progressing rapidly on the repairs to the turn table, and next week it is expected to have it completed. Much of the concrete upon which the track for the table is placed is cracked, and with the large derrick this is removed. Large pillars are driven into the ground to make a solid base, and the concrete is replaced. Removing the track interferes with the operation of the turn table, but half of the round house may be used for the "live" engines, as only a small section of the track is removed at a time. It can not be used to turn engines around on though and the engineer must use his wits in switching to see that he does not get the cart before the horse when he leaves to take out a train.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany and Holland, writes, Oct. 27, 1901: "During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Salt Lake City, in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction. Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by J. H. Ochlschlager, Lang Bros., C. O. Ripley.

PENITENTARY

SENTENCE FOR ORLANDO WIMAN, OF GRAVES COUNTY.

Charged With Detaining Miss Alice Tabers Against Her Will—Accuser Since Married.

Mayfield, Ky., June 19.—Orlando Wiman, charged with detaining a woman against her will, was tried in the circuit court Wednesday, and after the jury had been out about 15 minutes, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, brought in a verdict of guilty and fixing his punishment at two years in the penitentiary.

Wiman is about 18 years of age and a son of Robert Wiman, the well known farmer residing a short distance south of town. His accuser is Miss Alice Tabers, a young woman who at the time of the offense lived in the east edge of town. She has since married a young man by the name of Hargrove.

WHITE UNIFORMS FOR RECRUITING OFFICERS.

Sergeant C. A. Blake, of the local recruiting station, will soon be seen resplendent in pure white uniforms, as the war department has notified all recruiting stations that these suits will be permitted during the summer months. The suits will be made at the government tailoring establishment in Philadelphia, and the laundry bills also will be paid by Uncle Sam. Each recruiting officer will receive four suits.

W. Walker & company. Reserved seats can be gotten at Gilbert's drug store beginning Monday. The prices will be 25 cents admission and 25 cents for reserved seats, the concert to be in the Chautauqua building.

Burglary at Campbell Home.

A burglar was discovered in the home of M. D. Campbell Wednesday night, and badly frightened Mrs. Octavia Campbell and Miss Mildred Campbell. The burglar when discovered quietly crept to a window and dropped to the ground before the alarm could be given.

James Madison

IN George Washington, the American Revolution had its conquering general; in John Adams its intrepid organizer; in Jefferson its bold philosopher; and in Madison its constructive statesman.

He it was who caused to be deeply imbedded in our highest law those vital and fundamental guarantees of life, property and Personal Liberty.

In private life he was extremely social—yet truly temperate—drinking good malt beer and wine in strict moderation. Once, when sick in bed, he caused his couch to be wheeled near the dining-room door, that he might call to his acting representative at the festive board: "Doctor, are you passing the bottle? Do your duty, doctor, or I must cashier you!"

Justly named "The Father of the Constitution," he died at eighty-five. When shall his name be forgotten?

HOW TAFT RECEIVED NOMINATION

Fails to Find Words to Express Appreciation.

Family and Friends Were With Him When News of Nomination Was Received.

FORAKER CONGRATULATES HIM

Washington, June 10. "Words do not find themselves at a time like this. I do not deny that I'm happy."

This was the response of Secretary Taft to the request for an expression of his views on his nomination for the presidency. The sentence did not come easily. Throughout the afternoon preceding the announcement of his nomination the secretary had been laboring under suppressed nervous tension. The atmosphere in his office was electric with excitement. Notwithstanding the great personal interest which he had in the proceedings at Chicago a thousand miles away, Taft did not permit politics to interfere for a moment with his transaction of official business as secretary of war. In the interim of the receipt of bulletins from the convention, the secretary disposed of several questions and when his nomination for the presidency was announced his desk practically was cleared of his important office business.

Members of Family Present. Throughout the afternoon the private office of Taft and the office of his private secretary, Frederick Carpenter, were thronged with members of his family, intimate personal and official friends, and newspaper men. Shortly before 12 o'clock Mrs. Taft arrived at the war department. She scanned carefully the bulletins which had been received from the convention and distinctly manifested her pleasure at the result of the action of the convention regarding the platform. "Sid is a close and accurate observer of things political and is one of the best advisers the secretary has."

BEYOND BELIEF.

(Pacific Coats Manufacturers' Journal, Portland, Ore.)

It is amazing that in this intelligent age there should be an almost certain specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and yet but few know of it. The promoters are trying hard enough to tell the people, but patent medicine men have, with their testimonial bureau, so imposed upon the people as to create general distrust. The innocent are now suffering with the guilty, for who can pick out the honest from the dishonest statements?

Let it be recorded for thoughtful people that these diseases are no longer necessarily fatal; that with care and proper treatment they yield almost to a certainty. I will see that parties desiring it are sent literature. This item is not written by a subordinate but by the editor of this publication, and I speak by the card. I had Diabetes myself. THE EDITOR.

I heard about this and sent for it in the interest of people here. If those interested in the curability of Bright's Disease or Diabetes will call I will give them full information.—W. B. McPherson, Paducah, Ky.

had throughout the preliminary campaign for the presidential nomination.

Mrs. Taft Gets Bulletin.

Mrs. Taft remained in the secretary's private office, throughout the afternoon. Accompanying her was their son, Charlie, whose special function it was to carry the bulletins received from the convention to the secretary's desk. It was to Mrs. Taft, ordinarily, that he presented the bulletins rather than to Taft, and he listened while his mother read the bulletins to the secretary's assembled guests.

Shortly after 4 o'clock—before the nomination speeches of the presidential candidates had been concluded—Miss Helen Herron Taft, the secretary's daughter, joined the group in Taft's private office.

As the balloting began in the convention the atmosphere in the two rooms seemed to be surcharged with excitement. Scarcely a word was spoken. Men who ordinarily are not affected by nervousness hung over the telegraph instrument as their lives depended upon the words which the stolid telegrapher was ticking out on his typewriter.

Good News Received.

Something went wrong with the official dispatches. The first announcement was that Massachusetts had cast 32 votes for Taft. Then the announcement from Michigan was made with its one vote for Cannon. At this moment Secretary Carpenter's telephone jingled and William Pannell, Secretary Taft's personal messenger, received a flash from the Associated Press that Taft had been nominated. The information, conveyed instantly to the secretary, created a commotion and a minute or so afterward a bulletin from the Associated Press confirming the nomination was received and was followed soon afterward by a confirmation from other quarters. Mrs. Taft rose from her seat at the secretary's desk and turned to her husband who was standing at her right.

Taft Congratulated.

It was an eloquent handicap they gave each other. Mrs. Taft was bubbling over with happiness. All evidence of nervous strain which had been in her face during the entire afternoon had disappeared. The secretary, himself, laughed with joy as a boy. Around both secretary and Mrs. Taft their friends came forward to offer congratulations. Secretary Root was the first cabinet officer to extend his congratulations on the nomination.

Cannon Congratulates.

Chicago, June 10.—Before the calling of the roll on the presidential nomination had been completed, Speaker Cannon had sent this message to Taft:

"You've been nominated as candidate for president by the Republican national convention. I heartily congratulate you. You will be elected by the people in November. Illinois will cast her electoral vote for you. Whatever I can do for your success and that of the party will be done."

How Foraker Feels.

Washington, June 10.—"Until the convention made a nomination every Republican had a right to have his choice," said Senator Foraker, after hearing of the nomination of Taft for the presidency. "But now it is no longer a question of men, but a question of party. In this way Taft becomes my candidate for the presidency, and, while under all circumstances I can probably do but little, yet I shall do all I can to help elect him. The Republicans will now quit contending among themselves and turn all their guns on the common enemy."

Schiller on a Big Scale.

At Eger, Bohemia, where Schiller wrote the Wallenstein trilogy, arrangements are being made, says the Bohemia, of Prague, for a performance of the historical plays on a magnificent scale. No date further than "next summer" has been fixed, but it probably will be at the height of the travel season. In "Wallenstein Tod" the managers of the undertaking hope to make use of the weapons and uniforms which are preserved in the museums, and the military bodies will be made up of Austrian troops and members of the reserve force. The entry of Wallenstein will be an elaborate spectacle, in which every historical detail will be reproduced and about a thousand men will take part.

News of Theatres

The Hutton-Bailey stock company will close their engagement at Wallace Park Casino tonight and the engagement has been a very profitable one for both the management of the Casino and company. The company deserves much praise for the admirable manner in which their work was conducted. This is one of the most evenly balanced companies that it has been the pleasure of Paducah audiences to witness. Each play was given a production and not the slightest detail was omitted in presenting the plays and bringing out the full strength of the company. Tonight for their farewell performance they have been requested to repeat "Blue Grass." The plot of this play is laid in the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky, and shows how a Kentuckian holds honor dearer than life in Old Kentucky.

TAFT DEMONSTRATION WAS MADE

Inaudible—a mere whisper above the deafening volume of sound. For ten, fifteen then twenty minutes this uproar continued. It was a repetition of the scene of yesterday when the name of Roosevelt threw the convention into a frenzy, repeated in intensity and almost in duration. But there is a limit to the physical resources of throat and lung; relays had not been established and at last the tired voices died down to a harsh shout and then subsided.

Knight Secured Nomination.

This bill now gave an opportunity for the speech seconding Taft's nomination by George H. Knight, of California, his big, round face beaming forth on the sympathetic multitude, and his splendid baritone voice swelling forth like the tones of a great church organ. California's tribute to Taft was brief and fervid. Now there was another lull in the Taft movement, while the remaining candidates were placed in nomination.

LaFollette Demonstration.

It was late in the afternoon before the convention, now literally sweltering with the intense heat and weary after nearly seven hours continuous session, reached the end of the flood of eloquence and the decks were at last cleared for the culminating act. But now, just as the last swell of oratory, the seconding speech for LaFollette had died away, like a cyclone from a clear sky burst a LaFollette demonstration which swept the convention from its very bearings.

It was the same deafening wave of sound, that had greeted Roosevelt yesterday and Taft a little while before, intense and maddening and with the vital ring of genuine enthusiasm. It seemed as though Wisconsin had suddenly peopled every foot of the galleries. The delegates sat calm and waiting; except frantic Wisconsin, but the convention for the time being was in possession of the galleries. Now a single transformation occurred, gradually veering from LaFollette to Roosevelt. A banner bearing Roosevelt's portrait, saved from the gallery was a signal for the change but in the confused babel of voices there was no distinguishing where the LaFollette cheers ended and those for Roosevelt began.

Lodge Orders Roll Call.

Amid the pandemonium, and with the galleries in full control Chairman Lodge decided upon heroic action in order to again make the convention master of its affairs. He ordered a roll call of the states to begin for the vote on a president. Such an

The girls who answer your call on the telephone, must be quick, accurate and courteous. They must have good memories, also.

Those who work nights often get in the way of eating almost anything handy, which is apt to be the kind of food which does not rebuild waste brain and nerve cells.

"I have been night telephone operator for a number of years," writes a California girl, "and was formerly in perfect health, never knew an ailment, and, while under all circumstances I can probably do but little, yet I shall do all I can to help elect him. The Republicans will now quit contending among themselves and turn all their guns on the common enemy."

"Four months ago mother told me it was the condition of my stomach that caused my trouble, and she believed if I would change to Grape-Nuts food I would improve."

"Eager to regain my health, I took her advice and instead of eating just anything, I ate Grape-Nuts regularly, and at the end of four months on Grape-Nuts I am the happy, robust girl I once was."

"I have gained eleven pounds in weight, have good color, am strong and hearty and nothing seems to escape my memory. And all this I owe to Grape-Nuts."

Daily Thought.

"Leisure is sweet to those who have earned it, but burdensome to those who get it for nothing."

Taft and Sherman! That sounds well.

All eyes will now turn to Denver. Of course Mr. Bryan will be the nominee, and the interest will be in the platform and the vice presidential nominee.

The selection of Sherman is good politics. New York is conceded to be a doubtful state, and Sherman will be counted on the round it up for the ticket.

It is to be hoped the country will be given a rest from politics after the Denver convention. Let the campaign start about the first of October, as six weeks of vigorous campaign is all the people want.

INTERURBAN.

Nothing succeeds like success, and with the beginning of actual construction work on Paducah's first interurban railway, a stimulus to other interurban projects doubtless will be given. Paducah will prosper in proportion as all roads are made to lead to the city, and for promoting easy and frequent communication between the rural sections and the city, the interurban is unsurpassed.

The farmers living along the route of the interurban to Cairo, will be assured of good roads to their markets all the year round. This will give them an advantage over their neighbors who have to trudge through miry dirt roads, weary miles to town, that will soon tell in the competition of farming. Farmers who were accustomed to drive through with a wagon to the city market, will soon be able to load their tobacco or produce on electric cars that will put them in Paducah at a large saving in time and money.

When the country gets back on the old boom basis, as it surely will, Paducah gradually will become the center of a network of interurban lines that will solve the good roads problem in a large measure. Suburban real estate values will take a spurt, because they will be easily accessible for city workers. Retail merchants will have opened up to them a new patronage, the prospects of which ought to enlist their hearty support of every practicable project in interurban construction.

Trunk line railroads really have nothing to fear from the competition of interurbans because their business is largely new business. If we take the word of such men as James J. Hill and Martin A. Knapp, the railroads should greedily welcome every conceivable aid in the transportation problem that faces this country under normal conditions.

ANGLO-SAXONS.

Fiske, the historian, has said that the moment of Cromwell's success at the battle of Marston Moor, was the most critical time in the development of democratic institutions. He did not even except Yorktown, but traced our institutions from the victory that day. Fiske further said that the vital point in the contest, was whether mankind should be self-governing, or the old monarchical ideas should prevail. Anglo-Saxons decided in favor of self-government and a government authorized, limited and prescribed by the majority. For any faction or for any minority, however numerous, to exercise the sovereign functions of government, was the essence of monarchism.

Night-riding, therefore, is the essence of despotism; its survival would mean the destruction of anglo-saxon civilization, because it is a faction undertaking to exercise the supreme governmental function of life and death. Cromwell fought to maintain the principle that no irregular, irresponsible and unauthorized minority could arise to deprive him of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, believing that where these rights should be abrogated at all, it should be only from the decision of the majority.

Kentuckians are called on to settle a question that Washington and Cromwell solved so gloriously, which is, shall the state government, formally authorized by the majority, exercise the supreme power of life and death, or shall the night riders, representing a minority, exercise that power.

Could the night riders themselves and their sympathizers realize that the success of night riding means the loss of the principle of self-government they would curse the day the movement ever was started.

WORLD KINSHIP.

Those inventions that abridge time and space, Macaulay declared, have been the most beneficial to mankind. He was thinking how the railroad, the telegraph, the ocean greyhound and the telephone, had made the whole world next-door neighbors.

But the most marvelous invention of this age for bringing the widely scattered races of the earth into an acquaintanceship and eliminating prejudices, is the newspaper. Japan morning and evening can know the slightest change in mood in the American people, through the world-wide news service, and the citizens of the United States forms an opinion on conditions in Madagascar before breakfast, from reports of events that happened the night just past.

Our population of 70,000,000 each day is informed of the doings of the Chicago national convention, and a national public opinion is formed afresh, morning and afternoon. This wonderful annihilation of time in the distribution of vital news, is making us the most intelligent nation on earth. Other nations have competent news service, but the American newspaper is ahead of them all. News-dealers in Paducah are selling large numbers of metropolitan papers during the convention, and they are astounding productions in the completeness with which they report a great event.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY.

It is a remarkable fact that the rule is that city officials pay practically no attention to securing the best returns for money they are called on to expend in the interest of tax payers.

First the council, and now the board of aldermen, have accepted a bid for about four blocks of street improvement at a price not less than six thousand dollars more than a fair price. When the bid was submitted to the general council it was considered by people generally so grossly excessive, that no thought occurred but that it would be rejected without discussion. As this was not done, a protest signed by practically all the frontage owners on the two streets was submitted to the board of aldermen asking that the bid be rejected, as too high, but no, other people's money foots the bills and the bid was accepted.

The proposition to issue four hundred thousand dollars of bonds to make future improvements and permitting tax payers to pay in ten annual installments should be rejected by the people, so long as there is no one to exert sufficient influence to prevent the city and people being held up by outrageous contracts like the one for the improvement of Broadway and Jefferson streets. The Sun is a consistent advocate of progress, but it believes more in having the people's affairs administered properly and fairly than it does in a course such as we are now witnessing.

NOMINEE TAFT.

To the average laymen, not endowed with political foresight or the gift of prophecy, and unbiased by any prejudices, the nomination of Secretary Taft by the Republicans has been foreseen for at least sixteen months. Of course Wall street, and a kindred group of financiers, some of whom are to be found in every community, could see nothing but the re-nomination of Roosevelt. This was but additional evidence that they did not know their man. Roosevelt would not have had a third term, and could not have gotten it should he have aspired to it.

No man was ever called to lead his party in a national campaign who brings to the work a better temperament or more natural endowments than William H. Taft. Schooled by three administrations, there is no phase of public life he has not touched, and the friends who know him best say his administration will be as marked for good work as has been that of Roosevelt. That he will follow out Roosevelt's policies is assured. That he will use different means to continue the good work inaugurated by this administration is, too, assured.

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON
 ILLUSTRATED BY A. WEIL

"There!" he remarked triumphantly, exposing two small plates of metal not differing greatly in appearance from two pieces of burnished steel. Eagerly all those in the room crowded forward, while the president gingerly took one of the slabs in his fingers.

"New explosive?" he asked.
 "No, they're harmless." The inventor smiled.

The others looked eagerly at them as the president held them, wondering what connection the two little strips of metal could possibly have with the defense of a nation against a multitude of battle ships. Nothing but Roberts' known ability prevented them from looking upon him as a crank. They inspected the objects before them in turn, passing them from hand to hand with blank looks. Only the secretary of war, who in his earlier years had been a metallurgist, showed any signs of surprise or amazement. He turned excitedly away and crossed the room to a side light, against which glare he held the little plate, staring at it fixedly. The inventor smiled, and the others renewed their interest. The secretary hurried back.

"What on earth is it, Dr. Roberts?" he asked, and then without waiting for an explanation continued: "I never saw a metal that looked or felt like it. What is it?"

"Gentlemen," said the inventor, recovering the slab and balancing it in his hands, "that is a new plate that can be made cheaply and quickly. If it does what the laboratory tests show, it will, when applied to cruisers which can now steam 20 knots an hour, make 50 knots an easy gait for them."

There was a gasp of astonishment amounting almost to incredulity among those who crowded round, and the scientist, enjoying the effect of his words, smiled and smoked. A moment's pause ensued while the possibilities of the discovery dawned on them. Those who knew him least were again questioning his sanity, and then, as if all at once they could wait no longer for him to explain, they burst into a chorus of questions, which he did not answer. He waited until no voice was heard, and then began.

"That plate practically overcomes friction. My assistant, my daughter Norma, and I have made several tests before I came here with it. These were cast and tested last night. I am not going into scientific details; but this much I'll make plain: A ship coated along certain lines with that metal, electrified only to a point where she would not sink for lack of support, can reduce her skin friction caused by the water to a point where her speed would be something hitherto unknown. It would, of course, mean lighter armaments, because the lighter the dead tonnage the greater the buoyancy. But a cruiser with a few long range, high explosive guns, that can travel at the rate of 40 or 50 miles an hour, or a submarine that can make that speed for 24 hours at a stretch, would play havoc with any navy in the world."

The room was alive with excited men now as the full force of his statement came in all its clearness. If that unknown metal had that property, and sufficient fighting ships could be armored with it in time to meet the demands made upon them, the seas would be whipped into subjection and legions of troops transported before they could be interfered with. The president himself had lost his calmness and was gripping the arms of his chair. The secretary of the navy, having the practical point of view, came out of his trance, and snapped out a question.

"How long would it take to equip a cruiser with those plates?"

Roberts turned toward him. "Depends on the plant. The plates can be cast and electrified just as rapidly as you could cast sheets of plain iron and turn a current into them; but I wish to experiment a little further first and try them out on some old gun boat that wouldn't amount to much if lost."

The room was again filled with a babel of sound, as the officials began an argument; but on one point they were agreed. The man before them was so well known that the government was taking no great hazard in affording him every means within its power to carry out his work, and, if he could do what he believed, and of that there seemed no room for doubt, the solution of the approaching war, or any other, was in their hands. The president alone sat buried in thought, his brows drawn into a frown.

"Gentlemen," he said, and there was that in his voice which demanded attention, "I should like to ask Dr. Roberts a few questions. I wish to know if this work of his can be carried on so secretly that no other power—not one, nor even the people of this country—can become aware of his discovery. If he can suggest a means for such concealment; if his work can be done so expeditiously, with full government support, that within three months from to-night the American navy can be so equipped as to make it the most powerful in the world; and whether he realizes the importance of such haste."

The scientist threw his half-finished stogy into the ash receiver before him and became grave. He was the dignified, thoughtful man again, weighing his words and speaking with deliberation. "Mr. President," he answered, "I am not completely beyond the experimental stage; but I believe I can plan such secrecy as you desire, and with the aid of men and money make the United States navy invincible in less than three months. I would almost stake my life and reputation on it. But why, may I ask, do you desire to keep it from the world's knowledge that you have such power?"

The president walked up and down the room with his hands behind his back as if in a dream, while the others waited for his reply. "Because we are facing war with Japan, a skillful, advanced and cunning enemy, and there must be no risk of its discovering our secret. Its spies are everywhere in the land. Hostilities are to be courted in this emergency rather than declined, provided they can be rendered harmless to ourselves and humane to our adversaries. To talk of power without demonstrating it, is as idle as a braggart's boasting. To maintain silence and then prove ability, is to make one's action doubly impressive."

He started to say more, his big somber eyes glowing with some new thought, and then, as if afraid of his own conceptions, stood expectantly before his lifelong friend who was facing him. "Bill, Bill!" he said, brokenly, "do you see what depends upon you? Why, man, the nation itself, the lives of thousands of fathers and an army of our boys; yes, more than all that, the peace of the world! Good God, man! Try to realize what you have, and what we can do, if those two pieces of metal will do all you think they will!"

His long ungainly arms reached out, and he put his hands upon the smaller man's shoulders. Those within the room awoke to a realization of the magnitude of the power that was possible, and stood in awed silence, spectators of a tableau. From the broad sweep of the river without came the waiting whistle of a belated steamer, seeking its way through the fog that had settled down. The measured tramp of a patrolman in front of the huge white building came reverberating to their ears, cast back from the empty street, and thus they stood, centering their attention on a little, wizened old man who had grasped one of Nature's secrets and was now offering it as a nation's salvation. In this light he loomed to gigantic proportions, and seemed possessed of Titanic power. Oblivious to the others in the room, his restless eyes gleamed and probed those of his friend.

"Paul," he said in an oddly constrained voice, dropping back to the boyhood phrase, "I can make good. I'm at my country's service, and I've made no mistake in what I said." He swung sharply round to the others, and his clenched hands swept the air in a sudden frenzy of determination. He was the enthusiast once more, daring, dreaming, positive and sanguine. "Send me the two best engineers in the navy and the two best supply men to-morrow morning. I'll tell them what we need and they can tell me how soon they can deliver it where I want it. I'll want machinery and apparatus, supplies and assistants. Money and men! Money and men! They can't beat us! They can't beat us!"

His hands came back to his sides. He folded the precious pieces of metal into their coverings, while the others stood silently by, and, as if abashed by his own outburst, bade them a curt "Good night," and walked from the room. The others, with the burden of reticence upon them, fled after him one by one, contemplating the strange change which might be wrought by this night's work, and wended their way to their homes.

The fog settled down closer and partially spread itself over the river, the White House and the patrolman on his beat, but until the dawn came stealthily peering over it all the president wrapped in thought sat at his desk and in imagination saw invincible ships of war bound out to certain victory. And all his hope was founded on a war for peace.

Leitchfield, Ky., June 19.—The store and postoffice of T. H. Watkins, at Horntown, this county, was broken open by burglars and a safe blown open with dynamite. Considerable damage was done to the premises, but the explosive failed to wreck the safe and no money was secured. There is no clue to the miscreants.

NEW CHURCH BEING BUILT AT LONE OAK

Lone Oak, June 19.—Work is in progress now in the erection of the Lone Oak Methodist church. The foundation has been laid and now concrete blocks are being made as rapidly as possible to push the erection of the church, and have it ready for services by September 1. The building will be 32x50 feet, and the ceiling will be 20 feet high. The church will be erected of concrete blocks and will have a slate roof, making it one of the neatest churches in McCracken county. The estimated cost of construction is $2,000.

The Rev. W. J. Naylor is pastor of the church, and due to his push and energy the erection of the church is possible. There are only 35 members to the church, but they are taking much interest. The new church will be across the road from the Baptist church.

tist church. It will be neatly furnished throughout.

Not Guilty of Night Riding.

Cynthiana, Ky., June 19.—The jury in the case of "Dogwood" Kenyon, Charles Fowler, "Gum" McElhenny and Bill Brown, charged with night riding, returned a verdict of not guilty, and indictments against the other alleged raiders were filed away. The men relied on an alibi to clear them.

They were accused of stopping Marshall Haly as he was on his way to market with his tobacco.

Campaign Helps Printers.

Printers in the city have had the usual summer dull period vastly enlivened by the decision to have a primary by Deputy United States Marshal Elmore in August and November. Candidates already have placed orders for huge quantities of campaign cards, life-size portraits, and literature. On most of these the picture of the candidate is shown.

NIGHT RIDERS ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP WITNESS

Frankfort, June 19.—Maj. Webb, commanding the troops at Bracken county, says an effort was made by night riders to kidnap Louis Kinney, who resided against them, but the soldiers guarding the Kinney home repulsed the raiders, several of whom are believed to have been wounded.

TAKE DEBTOR'S OATH

Pony Wood, who was sentenced to jail and fined in last April's term of usual summer dull period, was turned free this morning. Wood went to Wickliffe, where he had a large quantity of campaign cards, life-size portraits, and literature. On most of these the picture of the candidate is shown.

THE heat will just begin now to worry you. We thought and worried over it weeks ago, with the result that we have the greatest assortment of cool garments to be had. If there had been others we should have had them.

$20.00 buys those handsome Mohair Suits. They are just about the weight of a whisper, and come in black, neat striped and grey effects.

$20.50—There are still some of those special purchase suits here, and some great values to be had at this price.

$14.95 takes choice of the remainder of the $18 and $20 suits we picked up from an overstocked maker.

$9.95 takes choice of a splendid lot of $12.50 and $15.00 suits from the same maker.

Coatless days call for coatless shirts. Why stuff yourself in a hot, heavy shirt, when such comforts as these soft, Soisette, shirts, with soft collar and cuffs attached are yours. We have the greatest value in this shirt for $1.00 you or any one else ever saw.

Our windows show a special--dandy bargain in a white negligee shirt for $1.50. Light cool, comfortable.

The wise men--and boys--are wearing the short sleeve and knee length drawers in the good old summer time. They certainly are cool. We show them in union and two piece suits, at 50c a garment, $1.00 a suit.

PHELPS JURY IS HOPELESSLY HUNG

COLLY TRIAT ON

Benton, Ky., June 19.—(Special.) No decision has been reached by the jury in the case of Barnett Phelps, charged with participating in the raid on Birmingham on May 9. The jury has had the case since yesterday at noon, and it is believed the twelve men are hopelessly hung. Not a word has escaped from the jury room as to how they stand.

All the evidence in the case of Sam Colly, charged with being one of the captains in the raid, was completed today at noon, and this afternoon the attorneys are giving their arguments, with the prospect of a night session if necessary to complete before giving it to the jury. The evidence ran through the same channel as in the Phelps trial. The same witnesses were used, and the negroes told their story of the raid in which John Scruggs, an aged negro, was shot and killed. They said they recognized Sam Colly by his voice, and as one of the leaders.

Otis Black, the confessed night rider, now living with the soldiers, took the stand and told the same story of the conspiracy and raid. He was cross-examined heard by the defense, and the testimony of his mental disability was retold. Like his neighbors, Colly relied upon an alibi and denied being in the raid or of joining an organization known as night riders.

The interest in the trials is still intense, as the verdict of the first jury will doubtless have weight with the other trials. The attorneys on both sides are fighting desperately.

As rapidly as possible Sheriff Eloy is serving the warrants on the last batch of indictments, and all of the men have given bond.

Cree. Justice Harlan, of the supreme court, is given in the group.

NAUTCH GIRL

Question of Her Position in Social System Troubling India.

The position of the nautch girl is no longer what it was in the Indian social system. Not merely Europeans, but some of the best among natives feel that in view of the gradual raising of the tone of society the evils associated with her profession should cease to enjoy the toleration accorded to them in the past.

The view, however, is by no means universal, and the conflict of opinion is strikingly illustrated by the experience of Gaurhar Jan, a well-known nautch girl of Calcutta, and one of the finest singers in India. A rich Marwar family of Bombay recently engaged her to perform at a marriage ceremony, paying her a fee of Rs. 15,000 (£1,000). Later she visited the Lady Nothorpe Hindu Orphanage and consented to sing in its aid gratis in the town hall.

The citizens of Bombay, male and female, flocked in large numbers to listen to her, as the gramophone has made her name a household word in India. The handsome sum of 400 pounds was collected on the spot for the orphanage. At the close of the assembly the Hon. Sir M. Perozeshah Mehta pinned a medal on her breast.

Hearing this, Mr. Justice Chandrakar of Bombay, a well known social reformer and Brahmin leader, ceased his connection with the managing committee. A hot newspaper discussion followed. Mr. Tilak and others have written in defense of Sir M. Mehta, while other correspondents are against him. On another occasion Gaurhar Jan sang in aid of the Mohammedan College of Aligarh, but Nawab Mohsan-ul-Mulk refused to receive any profit from that source.—London Telegraph.

CREATING A NEW VASE.

German Historical Society Reviving An Old Roman Art.

According to Consul William J. Pike of Kehl, there is about to appear in the market a new kind of richly embellished vase to be called "terra sigillata," which is of interest from a historic and artistic point of view, leading him to summarize a description from a German trade Journal as follows:

Recently, in the excavation of Roman ruins, a certain beautiful vase, called in Latin "terra sigillata," was unearthed. This has come to the attention of a historical and archaeological society in Metz, Lorraine, which became so interested in the vase that it approached a manufacturing firm with a view of ascertaining whether it would be possible to manufacture an imitation of this unique vase, because the society wished to present each of its members with a copy of one of these old Roman relics. The manufacturer who was interviewed also became very much interested in this piece of art, being himself an antiquary, and offered his services in trying to imitate this skillfully and dextrously worked out creation of art.

The first process was naturally the study of the composition and the method which had been used by the Romans in embellishing the original, which was a more difficult matter than imitating the exact form. Further, to produce the artistic effect a burning process was necessary, which in the first experiments with the material used made the vase so brittle that they were found to be impracticable. Should further experiments, however, overcome this obstacle, the firm will not only manufacture a sufficient number for the members of the society, but place the same upon the market.

Since similar vases, found only in museums, have already created so much attention from the world of art and admirers in general, it is quite certain that it will be one of the best novelties of real worth which has appeared for some time.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

be his half-brother, Charles P. Taft. His salary at first was $6 a week. While he was doing this he was keeping up his studies, taking the course at the Cincinnati Law School, from which he was graduated in 1889, dividing first honors with another student, and being admitted to the bar soon afterward.

The Call to Public Office.

He was hardly out of his childhood when he was called to public office, and in most of the years since then he has devoted himself to the public service. First he was assistant prosecuting attorney for Hamilton County, and helped to drive out the old Campbell ring, whose influence long had dominated the Cincinnati court house.

In 1886 Judge Taft married Miss Helen Herron, daughter of Hon. John W. Herron, of Cincinnati. They have three children, Robert Alphonso, a student at Yale, Helen, a student at Bryn Mawr, and Charles Phelps, who attends the public schools in Washington.

His Judicial Career Begins.

His appointment as judge of the Superior Court, 1887, was the beginning of the judicial career which was Taft's ambition, for which he was so eminently fitted. He had such a record as a judge that at the case of his appointment term he was triumphantly elected for another term. But already he had attracted attention outside his state, and he had served but two years of the five years for which he had been elected when President Harrison asked him to take the difficult post of Solicitor General of the United States.

Mr. Taft's record as solicitor general so clearly proved his fitness for the post that after three years in Washington he was sent back to Ohio as judge of the Sixth Federal Circuit, a post generally recognized as a preliminary step to the Supreme Court.

Considering the White Man's Burden. He saw the possibility of lifting a feeble, ignorant people into the light of liberty and setting them upon the path to intelligent, efficient self-government. That possibility recon- sidered him to the continuance of American authority over the islands, for none saw more clearly than he the chaos certain to result from immediate independence for the Philippines, with its inevitable and speedy end in complete and hopeless subjection to some other power. Therefore when President McKinley him to go to Manila and undertake the difficult and thankless task of starting the Philippines upon their true course, he sacrificed the judicial career which was his life's ambition and shouldered the "White Man's Burden." It was in March, 1900, that he received his appointment as chairman of the Philippine Commission. Mr. Taft arrived in Manila to find a people subdued by force of arms, but unanimously hostile, sullen and suspicious. They were still struggling with the bitterness of despair against the power in which they all saw only the hand of the oppressor.

A Revelation to the Filipinos.

Mr. Taft gave them concrete examples of disinterestedness and good faith which they could not fail to comprehend. He gave them schools and the opportunity of education, one of the dearest wishes of the whole people. But education was only a beginning. Mr. Taft gave the Filipinos the opportunity to own their own homes. It was another concrete example of simple justice. When they saw him negotiating for the friar lands, and at a great expense to the American government, securing for the Filipinos the right to buy those lands on easy terms, it went home to the dumbest among them that he was working unselfishly in their behalf.

And they saw his justice in their courts. For the first time in all their experience the poorest and humblest Filipino found himself able to secure an even-handed, honest decision, without purchase and without influence.

Even that was not all. They saw Mr. Taft literally and faithfully keeping his promise and call Filipinos to share in their own government. They saw men of their race called to membership in the commission, in the supreme court, and in all the other branches of their government. And they believed the promise of even wider experience of self-government to come.

It was a practical demonstration of honesty and good faith such as the Philippines had never known.

The Birth of a Nation.

What is the result? The birth of a nation. The great, powerful American people, through the compelling agency of Mr. Taft, has named over so slightly in its triumphant upward march, to step down and lift up a feeble, ignorant and helpless people and set it on the broad highway to liberty. Vaguely, uncertainly, not comprehending clearly just what it was doing, but understanding always fully either the object or the means of accomplishment, but its heart right, and submitting confidently to the leadership of a man in whom it trusted implicitly, this nation has assisted in a new birth of freedom for a new and oppressed people. To William Howard Taft belongs the lion's share of the credit. Not often is it given to one man to do such work for humanity. Solomon's such a task as his has displayed. Many other honors have come to him, many others will yet come. Among them all none will be of greater significance or of any more lasting value than his work for the Filipinos.

Secretary of War.

It is not important here to discuss in detail Mr. Taft's administration of the War Department since he succeeded Elhu Root as Secretary of War on February 1, 1904. He has been at the head of it during the years of its greatest range of activity. He is not merely Secretary of the Army, as almost all his predecessors were. He is Secretary of the Colonies. Under his direction fall matters of the utmost importance affecting every one of the overseas possessions of the United States. The affairs of the army alone have often proved sufficient to occupy the whole attention of an able secretary. Mr. Taft has had to handle not only those and the Philippine and Cuban business, but to direct the construction of the Panama Canal as well. And at not infrequent intervals he has been called on to participate in

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we could properly investigate them and make use of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvellous cures effected by his Golden Medical Discovery, which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver purifier, blood cleanser, and general health-giver. It cures indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart, yields to its curative action. The cases which cure these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvellous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and depressing disorders, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is amply attested by thousands of the most reliable testimonials contributed by actual patients who have been cured of all phases of female troubles, including irregularities, leukorrhea, and other disorders, and who are now enjoying perfect health and happiness.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in the manufacture of these medicines, by Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and machinery specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful ingredients. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.

The direction of other weighty affairs of government. He has been the general adviser of President Roosevelt and has been called into consultation on every important matter which has required governmental action.

The administration of canal affairs has required in a high degree that quality described as executive ability. The building of a canal is a tremendous enterprise, calling constantly for the exercise of sound business judgment. In it Mr. Taft has displayed in ripened proportions the abilities he foreshadowed when solicitor general and collector of internal revenue.

Real Self-Government for Cuba.

Aside from the Philippines, and the Canal, the greatest call that has been made upon Mr. Taft since he became Secretary of War came from Cuba. This was largely a case similar to the Philippine problem.

When our intervention freed that island from the Spanish yoke, we deemed it sufficient insurance of successful government for the Cubans to require them to adopt a constitution before we turned the island over to them. We ignored the fact that Cuba had no experience of constitutions or understanding their functions. So when Cuba had conformed to our requirement we sailed away from Havana and left her to work out her own salvation unaided and untaught.

The result of that folly was inevitable and not long delayed. The Cubans having adopted a constitution they had not the slightest idea of what to do with it. They proceeded to govern under the only system of which they had any knowledge. The proclamation of the president took the place of the old royal decree. He created by his fiat the departments of government which should have been established by law of congress under authority of the constitution. Freedom in the American sense was unknown in Cuba. Justice was a mockery because it was a matter of purchase, and government was oppression.

Order Out of Chaos.

The experiment was aimed toward chaos and its operation was quickly realized. In September, 1906, the United States had to intervene again, and the task fell on Mr. Taft. Fortunate it was both for the United States and Cuba that it was so. With his experience of the Filipinos as a guide and the magnetism of his personality as a lever Mr. Taft placated the warring factions and secured peaceable intervention. Then he devised and set up a provisional government which all the Cubans accepted.

The work is now nearing completion, and when next the Americans quit Havana it will be after turning over to the Cubans a governmental machine properly established and fully equipped, whose operation they have been taught to understand and control. Thus, to two peoples has Mr. Taft been called upon to give instruction in practical self-government.

The character of Mr. Taft is the resultant of strongly contrasting forces. He is a man who laughs and fights. From his boyhood good nature and good humor have been the traits which always received notice first. But at the time he has been capable of a splendid wrath, which now and then has blazed out, under righteous provocation, to the object. Because he is always ready to laugh, and has a great roar of enjoyment to signify his appreciation of the humorous men who have not deceived him closely have often failed to understand that he is just as ready to fight, with energy, and has won his support. But it is almost always some other man's cause which excites him. His battles have been in other interests than his own. First of all he is an altruist, apt then a fighter.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a easy call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends doctored consumption, had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

How to Cure Liver Trouble

There are usually several ways to do a given thing, but it is the aim with all of us to find the best and shortest way. It is just so in the cure of disease. People suffering from liver trouble imagine that all they have to do is to take some thing that will physic them. There is more than that in the cure of so serious a disorder as liver trouble.

When that cloying, clogged up feeling comes on you go to a drug store and ask for a 50 cent or $1 bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take a dose or two and watch results. It will not only clean out the bowels and stimulate the liver, but it will get the blood circulating so that you feel active again, and arouse the functions of the stomach so that your appetite returns and you feel like your old self again. A simple laxative or purgative could not do that. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is not only a wonderful laxative but it has tonic properties, so that, unlike so many other things, instead of leaving you weak and drawn it builds you up and strengthens you.

It goes on, it acts smoothly, oiling the intestines so that the passage is smooth and agreeable. It is gentle but effective, pleasant to the taste and pure in quality. It is an excellent, economical home cure, and its results are permanent. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed for it.

Use it for occasional or chronic constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, sour stomach, bloated stomach, flatulency, diarrhea, and the dozen and one other ills of the stomach, liver and bowels. It is the greatest of household remedies and no family should be without it because in a family someone at any moment may need such a laxative and then you will appreciate having Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentlemen get most effective laxative for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." In recognition of his fifty-two years of faithful service in the practice of medicine, Dr. D. J. Foster has been presented with a handsome gold headed umbrella by the physicians of the city. people who know how to take care of themselves—the majority do not. The liver is a most important organ in the body. Herbine will keep it in condition. V. C. Eczema is Now Curable.

A St. Louis chemist, after many years of careful experimenting and investigation, has discovered a simple remedy that has cured hundreds of cases of eczema that had been pronounced incurable. This chemist believed that eczema and all itching skin diseases were of local origin and were caused by germs which attacked and fed on the skin. He began to search for a remedy that would destroy these germs, and found that by combining the active principles of certain well known vegetable drugs, and applying them locally, the first application stopped the itching and burning, and if used persistently would drive all germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. He gave this remarkable remedy the suggestive name of Zemo, and since its introduction to the public Zemo has proved a very popular remedy and is today recognized the most successful and meritorious remedy ever produced for the relief and cure of eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

Mr. Will J. Gilbert, the druggist, endorses and recommends Zemo and says that he believes Zemo to be an honest medicine and will do all that is claimed for it.

SALOON LICENSE INCREASED TO $500

license to $500 when they were not as able to pay the raise as other business men. He said that if there were 100 saloons in the city the high license would cut the number down to 30, and that most of these "little men" had their places of business leased, some for one year and others longer, and they could not stand the $500 license, but they would have to go and pay rent for their room till the lease expired and then would be working a hardship on these "little men." The number of vacant houses in the city, Judge Lightfoot said, would be increased two-fold. He also stated that the whisky element deserved a fair deal just the same as other business men.

Mayor Smith was on his feet in a few seconds in answer to Judge Lightfoot's statement of the city being mismanaged was the reason it was put in debt. The mayor said the way in which the city was mismanaged was that it did not make the licenses high enough to cover the expense of running a city when the licenses were first granted. Mayor Smith went on to name a few of the many improvements needed by the city of Paducah. Some were the improvement of First street, which will cost in the neighborhood of $6,000 or $7,000, the improvement of Oak Grove cemetery such as new fences and new roads, the improvement of Riverside hospital with an electric elevator, the public library is in danger of fire and must be rewired, the city hospital needs a contagious ward so as to prevent the spread of disease, a levee at the cost of $1,000 to $1,500 is necessary so as in the time of high waters the garbage can be carried out in deep water to be dumped, and the bridge across Island creek is in a dangerous condition and if any one should be injured on this bridge from its bad condition it would result in a big damage suit against the city. All these things and many other improvements must be attended to at once for the safety and sanitation of the residents of Paducah.

President Lindsey, of the council, gave an illustration to show how high license did not work a hardship on the people of Shreveport, Ind., where the license was raised to $2,750 per year and only 10 saloons went out of business. The vote was taken and there were 11 yeas, member Mayer being absent.

Mayor Smith told the councilmen to "go home and shake hands with yourself" and that he appreciated what they had done very much.

The second ordinance passed by a unanimous vote was an ordinance amending the license ordinance, placing the license of anyone selling drinks of 2 per cent liquor and money lenders on chattels at $500 per year.

amending the license ordinance, placing the license of anyone selling drinks of 2 per cent liquor and money lenders on chattels at $500 per year.

Vote on Bond Issue.

Another ordinance was that on the next regular election, Tuesday, November 3, the city vote on the issuing of $250,000 in bonds interest at 5 per cent payable semi-annually for 10 years, the money to be used for the improvement of the streets and sidewalks. An ordinance providing for the floating of $150,000 of 25 year bonds, to be voted on in the November election was passed unanimously, interest at 5 per cent payable semi-annually. Mayor Smith read several letters from contractors stating that they would not put in bids for work to be done in Paducah for the reason that it was too hard to collect the money when the work was completed and if the money was on hand they would bid on the work and from 12 to 20 per cent cheaper.

The second called meeting of the council resulted in the second passage of all four ordinances.

Aldermen Meet.

The aldermen met in a called meeting and all members were present and they gave the four ordinances first passage. Alderman Oehlschlager voted no both times to the $500 license ordinance, his reason for doing so was that he did not believe the saloon men were prepared to meet the expense on July 1. Maybe some of them would want to go out of business at the end of this year and they could sell their lease on their building to some other party. Mr. Oehlschlager is in favor of the $500 license, but does not want it to go into effect till the first of the year.

The regular meeting of the aldermen was held 10 minutes after the called meeting adjourned and all the ordinances were given their second passage. The regular order of business was set aside so the ordinances could have first place.

Accounts were allowed for $7,882.12.

Saloon license were granted N. J. Jones at 109 North Fourth street and Robert Stith at 125 Broadway.

Alderman Miller made a motion of thanks to Mayor James Smith and City Solicitor James Campbell for having the $500 law passed through the legislature.

The bids for the paving of Broadway and Jefferson streets between Ninth and Eleventh streets was ratified from the board of public works. The Southern Electric company was awarded the contract for the paving. The bid was $25,210.

A remonstrance from Mr. Sam Hubbard was received and filed, stating that $2.35 per square yard for the improvement of Broadway and Jefferson was too much. He read names representing 2,300 feet frontage on the streets to be improved. Mr. Will Katterjohn said that the bid was very reasonable. Members Oehlschlager, Miller and Hank opposed the granting of the contract. The vote was 5 yeas and 3 nays.

The aldermen adjourned till this afternoon at 4 o'clock when they will finish the business that was to be transacted last night.

Yesterday was a mighty busy day in Chicago and Paducah for the candidates for the Republican presidential nomination and the candidates in the Sun Great Popularity Contest.
The difference between the two, however, was great. In Chicago a lot of candidates and politicians were busy all day talking, pandemonium broke loose at times, cheer upon cheer echoed throughout the big convention hall and terrific applause almost raised the big coliseum roof. In Paducah a lot of earnest candidates and their friends were busy working quietly canvassing the city and county for votes, and putting forth every effort toward winning one of the eighteen grand prizes—no cheer, no applause, no pandemonium. Unbounded enthusiasm marks both contests, however. The rivalry between candidates in both contests was and is good-natured, but sharp and exciting.

Taft was nominated although six were placed in nomination by the many factions of the Republican party, but there are five long, busy months ahead of him before the November election and no assurance that he will be elected. Next month the Democrats will make their presidential nomination, but the outcome of the race for president of the United States is not yet apparent. Likewise the outcome of the Sun Great Popularity Contest is not apparent; there are two more weeks of good hard work and sharp rivalry between the contestants. Some are in the lead, several head their respective districts, but like the political campaign, no one can pick the winner.
No one will be able to pick the winners; July 4th and November 3rd will decide. However, we are at present interested in the contest that closes first. Are you going to be a winner? You don't know, do you? Neither do we. We do know, however, that the winner will be a worker, that the winner will turn in a large number of subscriptions during the next two weeks. You know whether you are a worker, whether you are putting forth your best efforts, whether you are obtaining results. Therefore, do yours!
Justice and number yourself among the workers, among the winners, among the eighteen best candidates.

Twenty dollars in gold this week and 2,000 bonus votes for every $25 you turn in for subscriptions—every little bit helps you to win. If you don't turn in enough to win the $25 you will be amply rewarded for your earnest efforts in bonus votes. One more day this week—then twelve more working days before the contest closes. Not very long and it behooves everyone to put forth every effort from now on to the close. The contest is becoming close and exciting, yet pleasant; at the same time it is becoming shorter, the fun won't last much longer, neither will the work, and we want you to be numbered among the happy, satisfied winners at the end. We can't make you a winner, however—that is up to you—help us count you a winner by helping yourselves. Get busy and keep busy.

District 2 continues to furnish the major part of the excitement of The Sun's Great Popularity Contest. The scores in that district are fast mounting toward enormous figures. Three people at the top seem determined to have the lead, not only of that district, but of the whole contest. All three of them are above the top score of either of the other districts.

Miss Mern Nichols leads this evening. She has not only passed a hundred thousand, but she is more than half way toward the second hundred thousand. At the pace she has been going during the past week she will write her score in six figures with a "2" at the beginning long before the racers turn in on the home stretch.

Mr. Chas. Denker and Mr. A. W.
Stewman are only a step behind and are running smooth and easily.
Mr. Joe Desberger continues to lead District 1 and Miss Lara Street remains at the head of the outside district.

Who Are Eligible?
Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may be come a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.
The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue until July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

Districts.
The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:
District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway.
District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway.
District 3 comprises all of the territory served by The Sun outside the limits of the city of Paducah.

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.
Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.
The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $100.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolff's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $300 piano, on display at W. T.
Miller & Bros., 520 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 207-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in the order of rank—a $65 watch on display at Pollock's, 333 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's, corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway.

The right is reserved to alter these rules should necessity demand.

Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 3 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from District 2 or District 1, and vice versa.

New subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to another or to someone else living in the same house will not be counted as a new subscription.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes: a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Henneberger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes-Burford's, 112-116 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway.

Three additional prizes for the three districts are added and two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools and one scholarship in the Paducah Central Business College, offering the choice of nine courses. These prizes will be awarded in the three different districts so that candidates receiving the second highest number of votes in their respective districts may choose one of these scholarships instead of the merchandise prize. Should the second highest candidates not desire one of these scholarships, the third highest candidates may choose them.

If these two classes do not wish the scholarships they will be awarded to the fourth highest candidates in the three districts.

In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to busy candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

Table of Values.
Besides the coupons which are printed daily in The Sun and which are good for the number of votes printed on them if voted before the time limit stated, contestants may secure subscription votes according to questions that may arise in con-

GUN BATTLE ON STREETS OF MEMPHIS

Memphis, June 19.—One man was killed, one perhaps fatally wounded, and two other persons were slightly injured in a regular pitched pistol battle which started at the Lyric theater on Adams avenue, and ended in Court Square at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A running fire between half dozen men was kept up for three blocks in one of the most congested shopping districts of the city, more than twenty shots were fired and the lives of hundreds were endangered by the fusillade of lead from heavy caliber revolvers.

The dead:
JOHN LLOYD, aged 27, 123 Poplar avenue, night watchman at the Lyric theater, shot through the body died at St. Joseph's hospital at 4 o'clock.

The injured:
Walter A. Wyly, aged 35, 534 Edith Place, conductor on Illinois Central, shot seven times; perhaps fatally wounded.

Detective John J. Lawless, shot in rich hand, wound is only a slight one.
Mattie Mason, negro woman, 229 Montgomery street, hit in left arm by stray bullet, while standing at corner of Adams avenue and Main street, waiting to take a car. Wound not serious.

The first shots were exchanged between Detective Lawless and Wyly, in the lobby of the theater where the disturbance began. Wyly, it is alleged, made himself obnoxious to Miss Myrtle Cole, who was in the box office at the time selling tickets.
